

Collection and Dissemination of Food Safety Related Information in NIHS

CHIKAKO UNEYAMA, Ph.D.

Senior Researcher

Ministry of Health and Welfare

National Institute of Health Sciences

Division of Safety Information on Drug, Food and Chemicals

< Summary >

The main mission of the division of safety information on drug, food and chemicals, one of the divisions of the National Institute of Health Sciences (NIHS) is to research, assess, and disseminate safety information on drug, food and chemicals. The author is in charge of collecting information on food-related chemicals, and here will provide an explanation of the practices.